Director's Corner:

Even for a short, 4-day week...we have SO MUCH planned.

Summer Reading News:

Take a chance at our weekly trivia question in the children's department. All correct answers win a prize.

On Wednesday, July 6, the library is going to be a Very Noisy Place during our Library Obstacle Course at 7 pm for Summer Reading! The obstacle course will be a progression of 14 stations with a fun fitness challenge at each. We will be starting in the Young Adult section and going (loudly, I would guess) throughout the library, ending in the Children's department. Don't want to wait in a long line? You can also go outside and play some games, like hopscotch or Frisbee golf! Glynnis and her crew have organized another great family program and I hope you will join us!

Calling all artists - come get crafty with us on Fridays! Last week they made bubble art and this week they used sponges, paint, glue, and glitter to make firework art. A fun process and great way to exercise some creativity in the great outdoors!

Computer Classes:

On Thursday, we are excited to have our FIRST 'real' use of the new Friends Learning Lab with Jonathan's 30-minute short course "Library 24/7."
