Director's Corner

Speaking of Online Resources, we are testing a new "Google-like" service that allows you to search our online resources AND the catalog in one simple search. After you log in with your Huntingdon Valley Library Card, you can read full-text articles and access 'research starter' articles.

Curious?

You can test out EBSCO Discovery Service (EDS) on our Online Resources page (excuse the clunky look, the search box doesn't play well with our Web site yet). EDS is being rolled out county-wide and we hope that it makes it easier to use our many research, information, and life-long learning resources. It's great for reference and research questions - everything from hearing loss to opioids and dog training to bioswales.

Give it a spin and let us know what do you think!

-Sharon
