CARDBOARD KINGDOM COSTUME CONTEST

Who? Open to students entering grades 3-5 in the fall.

What? Read The Cardboard Kingdom (available digitally through Overdrive & Libby) and create your own character & costume inspired by the graphic novel.

When? Contest begins June 22. Submission deadline is July 31 at noon.

Where? Submit entries via email to Vanessa Nelson at hvlys@mclinc.org with subject line "Cardboard Kingdom Costume Contest." Include child's name & grade, character name, and a photo of the finished costume.

How? Costumes must be made from child's original design, not a template. Majority of costume (especially the base) should be made out of cardboard, but fabric and craft items can be used for embellishments. Make sure to ask an adult for help with cutting cardboard.

Winner will be announced on August 7. Top prize is a cardboard construction kit. Photo of costume winner will be shared on the library's social media. Feel free to crop out faces or cover them with masks in submission photos.
